Talented Students Receive Awards in Spring

With the revitalization of life in nature, an exciting program of activities marked the Spring Semester. Sponsored by the SGA and 2nd Dimension, Senator Howard Baker gave a speech, adding a political perspective to the campus. Socially, the every weekend forums and the Talent Show sponsored by the Freshman Class helped change the pace from winter doldrums to spring happenings. By the end of the semester, the fever of excitement rose to a maximum as the long awaited graduation bells became a reality.

In May, when the annual Honors Day Convocation was held, twenty-two Lambuth students were recognized for scholastic achievements and various contributions to the college.

Colors of Nature Enhance Beauty of Campus

Enhancing the college community's enjoyment of the Lambuth campus are the colorful changes that Nature brings with her seasonal variations. Stealthily creeping over the campus, Nature spreads the delicate shades of spring over the brilliant whiteness of winter and replaces the lush hues of summer with the myriad browns and golds of fall.

With each transformation, the campus takes on a new look, and the students respond with a host of new activities.

Audience Participates in Murder Trial Drama

Under the direction of Newton Neely, the Lambuth Theatre presented an unusual drama in March of 1974, "The Night of January 16th." A suspenseful murder trial by Ayn Rand, it included 12 members of the audience as the jury whose verdict determined the ending of the play. Until the jury foreman's pronouncement of the verdict, the cast members had no idea which ending would be performed. During the five-night run of the production, one jury found Karen Andre, performed by Marsha Coleman of Jackson, guilty of the murder of her lover Bjorn Faulkner, and four juries judged her not guilty.

Awards Are Given to Cast of "Butterflies"

"Butterflies Are Free," written by Leonard Geish and directed by Jesse Byrum, was the final production of the Lambuth season. With the technical assistance of JoAnne Adrian, Toney Walsh convincingly portrayed Don Baker, a blind boy trying to live alone in New York City. Pat Robbins was cast as the "kooky" girlfriend, Jill Tanner, who gave Don the confidence to remain on his own.

At the conclusion of the theatre season, awards were presented to students at the fine arts banquet. For their roles in "Butterflies Are Free," Pat Robbins and Toney Walsh won Best Actress and Best Actor, respectively. Bonnie Massa was named Best Supporting Actress for Ruth Hunsdorfer in "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds." For his portrayal of the Padre in "Man of La Mancha," Ken Carroll was presented the Best Supporting Actor award.

Miss Lambuth Court Enjoys Music

Marty Brock, sponsored by Harris Hall, won the title of Miss Lambuth by singing a medley consisting of "Good-bye Love" and "That's Life." From Greenville, Tennessee, Marty's major is Elementary Education.

Representing Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, Karen Hall, from College Station, Texas, was chosen first maid. Majoring in voice, Karen sang "Ah! Nella Calma" for her talent.

Cindy Orr, a history major from Jackson, Tenn., was named second maid. As representative for the Freshman Class, Cindy sang a medley of "I've Got Rhythm" and "Johnny One-Note."

Third Maid, Cathie Carter, an English major from Bonham, Texas, was sponsored by Harris Hall. Accompanied by Mrs. Jean Koelz on the piano, Cathie performed a flute solo entitled "Overture to Telemann's Suite in A Minor."

Margaret Williams, representing South Hall, was named fourth maid. Her talent presentation was a pantomime of "Spiders and Snakes." A special education major, Margaret's hometown is Memphis, Tenn.

Marty Brock Named Miss Lambuth

Twenty-one girls competed for the title of Miss Lambuth last spring. The pageant, with Judith Anderson as Mistress of Ceremonies, was held at Tigrett Junior High School. Special entertainment was provided by Karen Cooley, first runner-up to Miss Tennessee in 1972, and by Danny Hollis at the piano, accompanied by Dave Henry on the drums and Ken Kramer on bass. Special guests included Anne Galloway, Miss Tennessee of 1974. In addition to this entertainment, the girls themselves displayed many exceptional talents — dramatic interpretations, flute, piano, acrobatics, and singing.

Fathers Speak at Graduation

The 1974 senior class was honored to have the fathers of two of its members speak at the graduation activities, May 26th. At the baccalaureate service held in the chapel on Sunday morning, the Rev. Harrell A. Townsend, father of Mary Townsend of Paris, Tennessee, spoke on "Doing the Truth." After a rainy afternoon, the commencement in the athletic center was highlighted by the talk, "Attitude is the Key" by Bob Renshaw's father, Jack C. Renshaw.

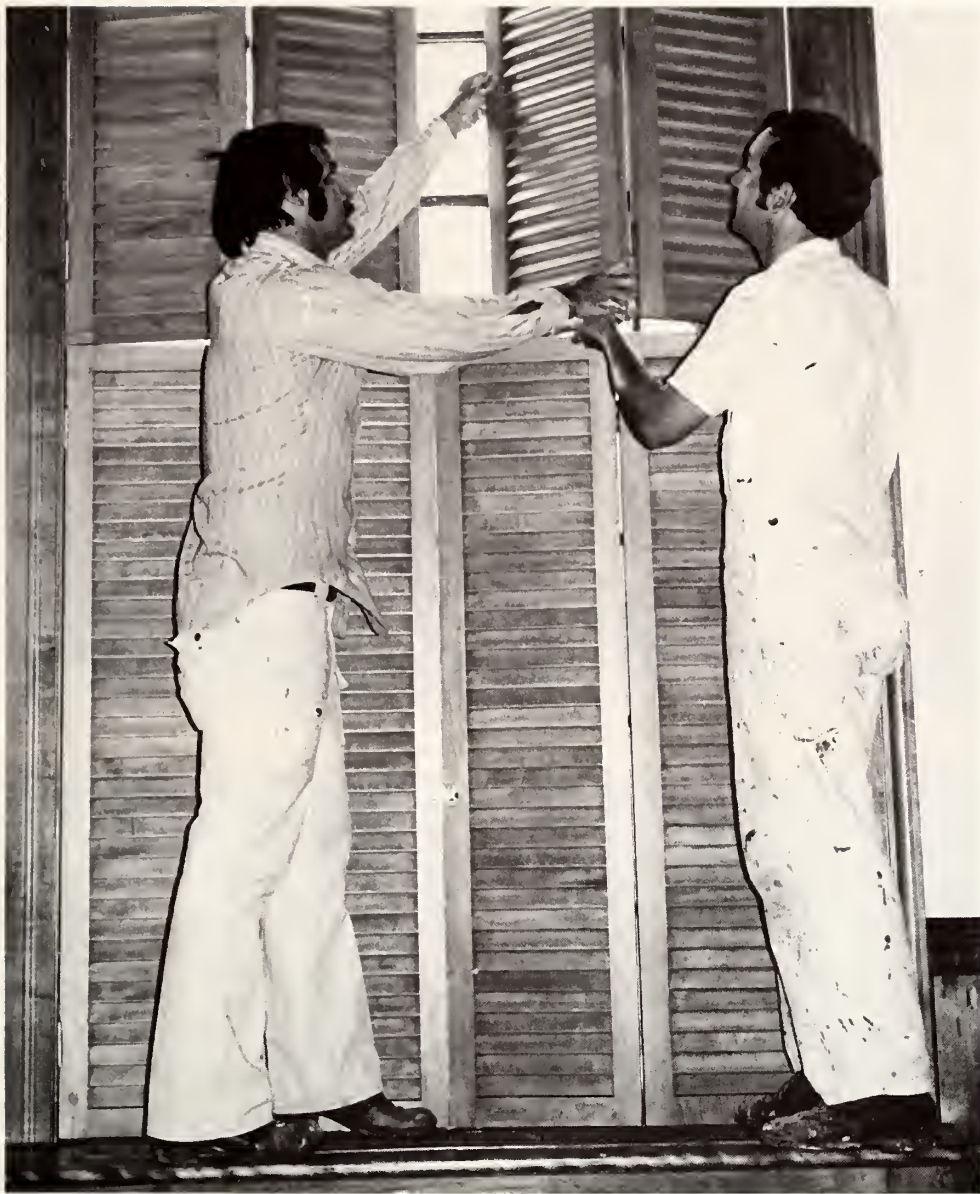

211 Seniors Graduate

Led by academic marshals, Cathie Carter and Pat Youngblood, 39 seniors received the bachelor of arts degree and 172 the bachelor of science degree. Three of the 211 graduates were awarded special recognition for scholarship and service. Jim Ramer received the R. E. Womack award for outstanding senior. Mrs. Jean (Robinson) Koelz received the Sigma Kappa sorority award for the highest scholastic average; Michael Mercer received two special honors: Alpha Omicron Pi sorority's outstanding service award and nomination to the Board of Trustees.

New Faces of Summer

Whereas, in the past, summer on the Lambuth College campus has been a blend of a quiet peacefulness and an industrious, academic atmosphere, the summer of '74 had a new and special life to it, because of the innovative drama program, Summer Stock. To the delight of both faculty and students, the interiors of the Chapel and Williamson Hall were handsomely and beautifully refurnished. And, as usual, Lambuth was the hub of activity during the Memphis Conference and, the Miss Tennessee Pageant, the latter in which Miss Lambuth, Marty Brock, participated.

Theatre Instigates Summer Stock Program

Lambuth Theatre expanded its activities by organizing a summer stock program for the first time. The 28 students enrolled in the activities studied various aspects of the theatre as well as presented two shows.

Directed by Newton Neely, "Bernadine" was performed on alternate weekends with "Bye-Bye Birdie," directed by Jesse Byrum. Plans for next summer's program include the possibility of preparing and performing three productions.

Registration Brings on Frustration

Registration again this year was a hectic time with freshmen going through the process for the first time. Upperclassmen found that even with having pre-registered last spring, that they could not get into some classes. Trying to go through the process quickly was slowed down at the computer center and by the I.D. picture taking. The last step was a painful one in having to pay for another semester.

Freshmen Are Oriented

Freshman students arrived on the Lambuth campus the week before classes began in order to be initiated to college life. The class was divided into small groups with student orientation counselors and faculty members serving as leaders.

Each group met to discuss preconceived notions and early impressions of college life, what the students expected from college education, and the philosophy of a liberal arts college. Freshmen also shared their reactions to a film on Plato's "Parable of the Cave" and discussed its relation to their education.

Rush Is Highlight of Opening of School

Once again fraternities and sororities dominated the first week of school with Greek rush. Approximately one-hundred students accepted bids from the various organizations. The groups were then entertained with a dance sponsored by Panhellenic and I.F.C. to welcome their pledges.

Big L Celebrates Half Century as Co-Ed College

Lambuth College celebrated its fiftieth year as a co-educational institution, starting with the 131st opening convocation held in the Memorial Chapel on September 13, 1974. The Methodist supported college was chartered in 1843 as the Memphis Conference Female Institute and was renamed Lambuth, for a Methodist missionary bishop, when it began admitting male students in 1924.

This three day event brought alumni from all areas to participate in the celebration. Jackson native, Dr. Joseph McLeary, '61, of Memphis, was the featured speaker. The R. E. Womack Memorial Room was dedicated on the first afternoon.

Also held were a picnic, which due to weather was moved indoors, a coffee, with a huge birthday cake, and a slide presentation of Lambuth through the years. The celebration ended on Sunday with a worship service in the Memorial Chapel.

"Great Ideas" Exhibit Draws Crowds in Fall

With the celebration of Opening Convocation, September 13th, the new school year was officially underway. Many activities highlighted the fall semester.

Greeks sponsored a number of functions including Sigma Kappa's "Sigma Kappers" and Alpha Xi's "Mr. and Miss Collegiate Showcase." The fraternities filled their weekends in the middle of the semester with open houses for the sororities.

In late October, the college was honored to host the art exhibit, "Great Ideas of Western Man." Having received nationwide recognition, this collection of sculptures and paintings in various media visually re-creates some of the great thoughts of man.

On November 16th-17th, the Student Government Association sponsored the school's first Parents' Weekend. Activities for the event included a brunch, Greek and dormitory open houses, a faculty sponsored coffee, and a dinner and dance.

Dorm Life Never Changes

For the new freshmen on campus, dorm life caused many adjustments. The student became used to hearing loud stereos, phones ringing all the time, alarms going off at various hours and in general became used to living with many other people. The student also adjusted to lonely week-ends, room checks, and late night studying. What would dorm life be without any one of these facets?

Focus Stresses Truth

Campus Congregation again sponsored FOCUS with the theme, "Truth in Religion and Nature." Guest speakers for the two day event included Will Campbell and A. J. Sharp. Mr. Sharp, a biologist from U.T. Knoxville spoke on "Truth in Nature." Because he once taught Lambuth's Dr. Lord, he was of special interest to many students. "Truth in Religion" was the subject of Mr. Campbell, who is a Baptist minister. These men spoke in various classrooms as well as in the Common Room.

Musical Production Is Success

Lambuth Theatre began its 1974-75 season with the huge success of Rogers and Hammerstein's, "The King and I," directed by Jesse Byrum.

Colorful costumes acquired from a New York company added much to the elaborate unit set designed and executed by Newton Neely and Larry Ray. Twenty-foot monkey guards, flanking the palace, created by Larry Ray, added to the oriental style of the play. Lights added special dimension to the overall production as well as the oriental makeup and created a unique effect on the characters.

Many of the faculty's children were involved in the play. Professors Dr. Jo Fleming, Dr. Don Honeycutt, Dick Brown, and Jacksonian, Virginia Bruse provided the musical background. Another special facet of the play was the Ballet Arts Inc. of Jackson that performed the ballet of "Small House of Uncle Thomas" in the play.

Who's Who Honors Largest Group

The students and their families and friends were honored with a convocation and luncheon on October 23rd. Dr. Bob Hazlewood, Professor of English, gave the address. McCullars' Drama Is December Stage Production

For its second production of the season, the Lambuth Theatre presented Carson McCullars' drama "The Member of the Wedding." Based on the playwright's adaptation of her own novel, the play took place in a small Southern town in 1945.

Excellent performances were given by Becky Fly and Kitty Glenn as Frankie, the lonely, motherless 12-year old girl, and Bernice, the black maid for Frankie's family. Jesse Byrum directed the play about loneliness and alienation. Preston Yarber designed and built the set.

Lambuth Dames Hold Christmas Reception

After Thanksgiving holidays, students were faced with just three weeks to prepare for finals. Of course, some time was taken by students to enjoy themselves. For instance, many participated in the intramurals swim meet and even more enjoyed the annual Christmas dance, December 14th.

Another good "break" from studying came with the annual Christmas Candlelight Service, held December 15th, the Sunday before finals. Prior to the service, the Lambuth Dames held a reception for both alumni and students in the Common Room. As in previous years, the Candlelight service was enjoyed by an overflow crowd in the chapel.

Study Stimulated by Interim Program

Lambuth's January Interim, designed for students to pursue their own academic interests and initiatives, offered projects on campus, throughout the U.S., and abroad. Student groups traveled to London and Paris for theatre and interior design research, to the Virgin Islands for an ecological survey, and to Washington and New York for study in drama and art.

On campus, some fifty projects varied from a course in charisma for the social and business worlds to a study of ethics and medicine. The philosophy and music departments collaborated in a popular project entitled, "Music and the Human Being or You Are What You Hear."

Independent student projects included attending the Alliance Francaise in Paris, studying Caribbean literature at West Virginia Wesleyan College, and studying at the United Nations in New York.

At the completion of the projects, an interim festival was held for students to exhibit and explain their work. Songs written and arranged by students in the "Write-On" projects were performed by Kaleidoscope. An interim dance followed that night noting the end of interim and the beginning of a new semester.

Homecoming Queen Announced

With the theme "Sentimental Journey," Homecoming 1975 began with a brunch for alumni on Saturday morning and ended early the next morning at the completion of the dance. Before the basketball game on Saturday, entertainment was provided in the gym as Max and Mar Shakleton performed gymnastic floor exercises and Dan Anderson pleased the crowd of alumni, students and parents on his unicycle; and the Helen Hill Coltrain Spirit Award was presented to sophomore Judy Sisson of Memphis. Highlighting the pre-game entertainment were the presentation of the homecoming court and the crowning of Homecoming Queen Sally Locke, a freshman from Columbia. In the truest Homecoming spirit, the Eagles defeated the Belmont Rebels by one point.

Lambuth Hosts and Honors Alumni

Homecoming evening was filled with activities as the alumni were honored with a banquet in the Colonial Room. Seniors were invited to attend the banquet as a means of orientation to the Alumni Association. While the band for the Homecoming dance set up equipment after the banquet, Kaleidoscope performed in the Hub for an audience of alumni and students. Lambuth students and alumni then filled the Colonial Room as they danced until one o'clock to the music of "Confunction."

Team Goes to V.S.A.C.

Lambuth's 1974 Eagle Baseball team was a team with many surprises. Prior to the beginning of the season, Coach Taylor said he hoped that the team could play "500 baseball" because of the tough schedule that they would be playing. The team finished the season at two games under 500, but it was good enough to get them a bid to play in the V.S.A.C. Tournament.

Eagle Goes Pro

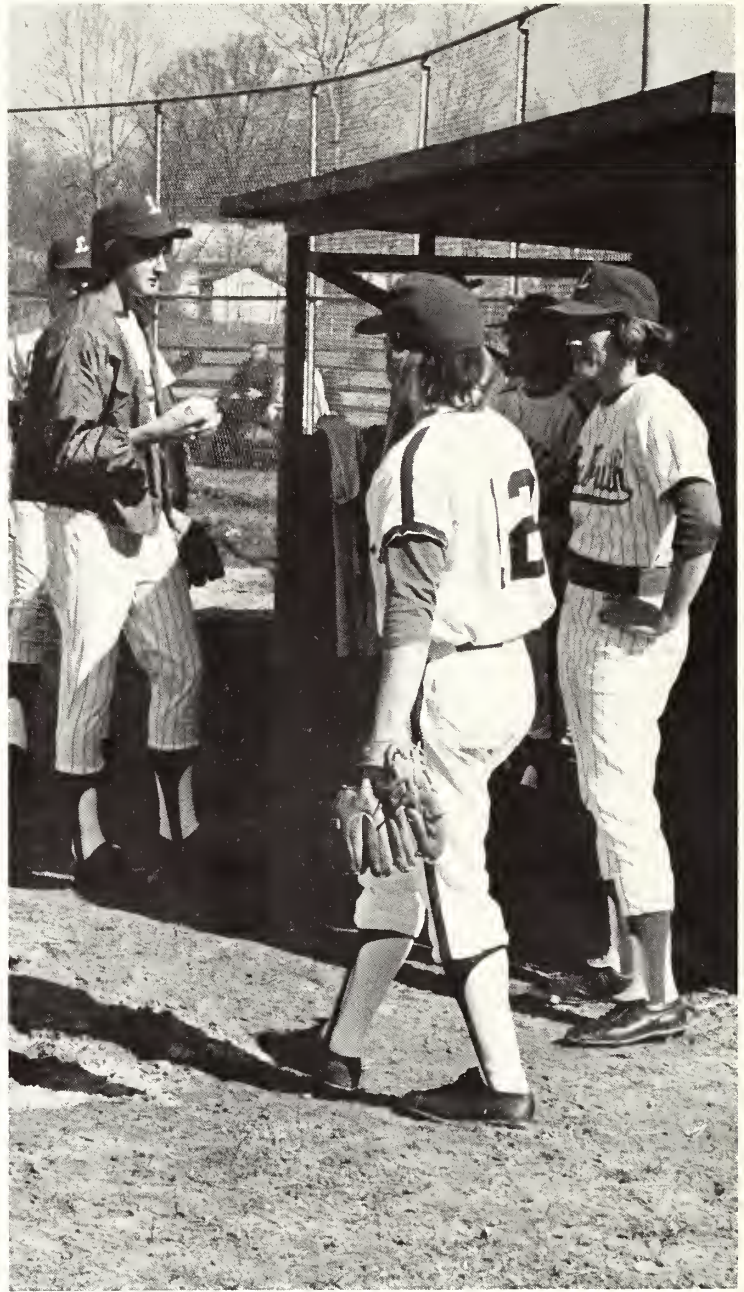

Two of the outstanding players during spring baseball were Glenn Broadway, who had the highest batting average with a .355 and also led the team in RBI's and doubles, and Danny Jones who had a .355 batting average. Others who hit over .300 were Gary Townsend, .315; Gil Webb, .311; Ricky Moss, .309. Also Broadway, Townsend and Jones made the V.S.A.C. All Conference Team. And, in the NAIA District 24, Danny Jones was voted the "most valuable out-fielder."

Another outstanding player, Bob Volk, over the summer of 1974, signed a pro baseball contract with the Baltimore Orioles and played AA baseball with their farm club in Florida.

Fall Baseball Comes to Big L

Fall of 1974 marked the first time in Lambuth Baseball history that the team played fall baseball. It played 3 conference double headers, and as a consequence of the new season, the best teams were picked for the starting of the spring season.

Coach Taylor was excited about the new Fall baseball season and hoped to get the team back to the V.S.A.C. Tournament this year.

Improvement the Goal in 1975

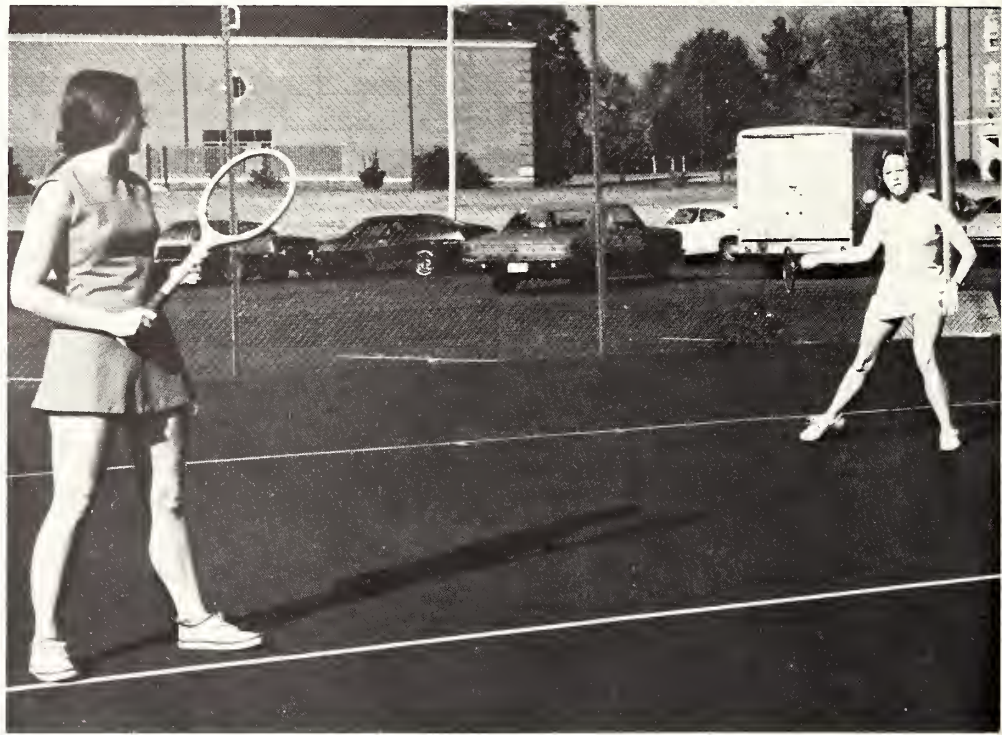

Under the coaching of Mrs. Norma Ellis, the women's tennis team won four matches, lost three, and had three rained out in 1974. Kathy Turner was the number one player on the team.

This year, the girls plan to play 12-15 matches and hope to improve by practicing more as a team. Schools they will be playing in 1975 are U.T. Chattanooga, University of Mississippi, Murray State, Austin Peay and several West Tennessee schools.

Men's Tennis Team Places in V.S.A.C. Tournament

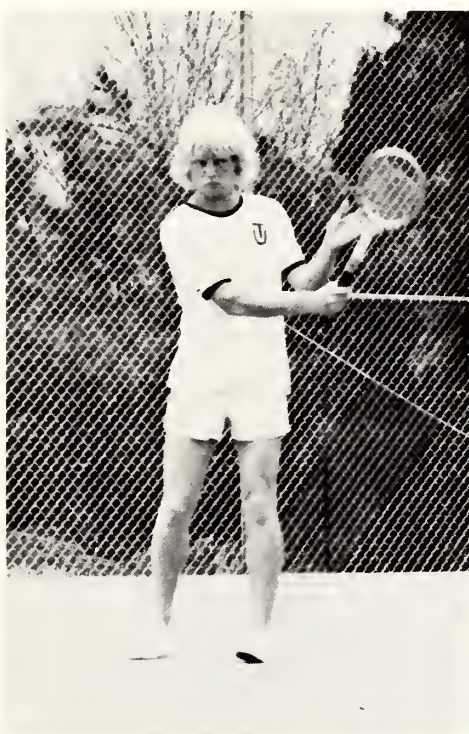

During 1974, the men's tennis team finished the year with 8 wins and 8 losses. After placing second in the Western Division of the V.S.A.C., they competed against ten other teams in the overall V.S.A.C. Tournament. In this tournament, Lambuth tied for fourth with C.B.C.

Lambuth's top-seated player, Kent Prokop, who won twelve out of sixteen matches during the season, was defeated in the finals of the V.S.A.C. Tournament.

Volleyball Team Claims First Trophies

Last year's girls' Varsity Volleyball team had a successful and eventful year. Under the direction of their new coach, Rita Carmichael, the team played more matches last year than the preceding two years. Overall record, including tournament play, was 31-9.

The team won the first volleyball trophy in Lambuth's history by placing second at the Murray State Invitational Tournament. Also, in the finals it won first place in the "B" division of the Tennessee College Women's Sports Federation (TCWSF) by defeating Southwestern at Memphis State. Its main opponents included Murray State, U. T. Martin, Austin Peay, Southwestern at Memphis, Peabody College, Trevecca Nazarene College, Fisk University, Georgetown College, Southern Illinois University, and Union.

Maxine Shackelton was the team's captain and Alice Templeton was the most spirited player. All team members returned from the preceding year and will be returning this coming year for another victorious season.

New Coach for Eaglettes

Lambuth's Eaglettes were under the new leadership of coach Rita Carmichael. Mrs. Carmichael is a Lambuth Alum with two years of varsity ball experience. Returning seniors Becky Turner and Loret Deaton led the team in both rebounds and scoring. Also returning from last year's squad were Marlene Shackleton, Maxine Shackleton, and Alice Templeton. Adding new talent to the team were junior Debbie Coulthurst and freshmen, Jane Spencer, Latasha Wright, and Dawn Hamm.

Women's season consisted of 18 games. At this time, only one game remained to be played with District Tournament to be held shortly afterwards.

Coach "Pepper" Bray Rebuilds Squad

With the loss of three varsity seniors, Dr. Charles "Pepper" Bray stated that the 1974-1975 team would be young and limited in experience. However, Bray had a nucleus of players, Ricky Delk, Godfrey Patterson, and Vincent Harvell with which to build his team. Delk is a 6 foot, 3½ inch junior honored all VSAC for the past two years. Named the Most Improved player in 1972-1973, Patterson is a 6 foot, 8 inch junior and Harvell is a 6 foot, 5 inch sophomore. Returning for action were senior Bob Jackson and junior David Henry. Freshmen, Terry Smith, Billy Hancock, Danny Cole, and Pat Warren were recruited by Coach Bray and proved to be an asset to the team. Also a transfer, Steve Toler, was an asset.

Team Works Together for Success

Lambuth's Eagle 74-75 Basketball season turned out to be another successful one. Coach Bray felt that this success was not due to one particular player; rather it was a full team effort. At the time of this publication, there was still one conference game left to play along with the VSAC tournament. The only senior on the squad, Bob Jackson, through 20 games with the Eagles was averaging over 50 percent from the field, 90 percent from the free throw line, and 10½ points per game. With only one senior leaving, Coach Bray reported that the team should be ready to go all the way next year if it continues to play together and keep the same attitude with the full team effort.

Sig Ep's Win Flagball

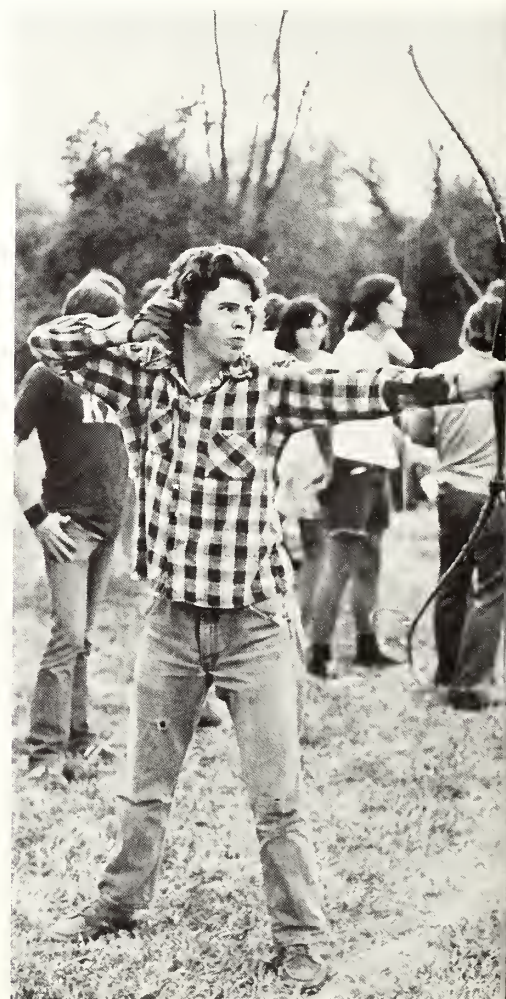

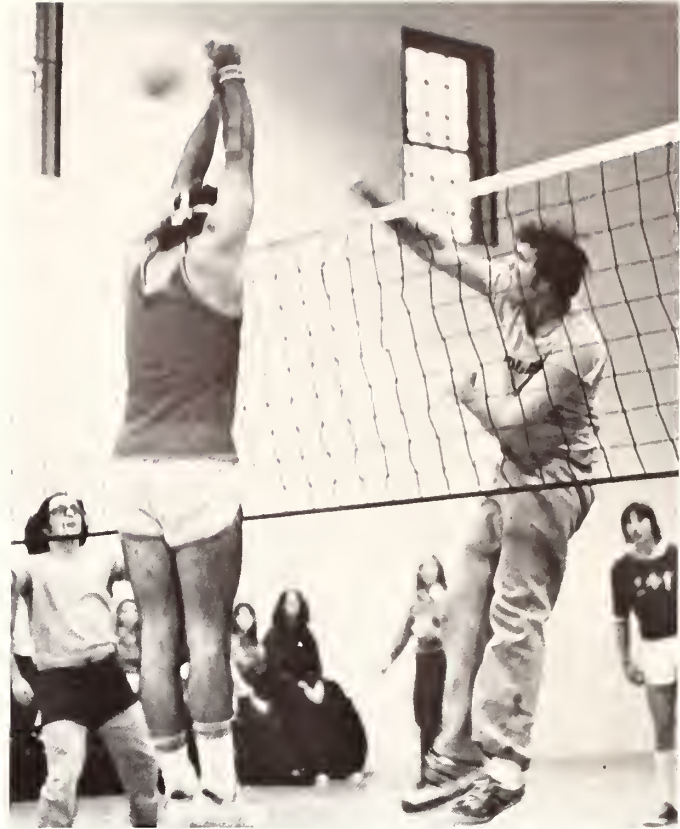

Intramurals brought much excitement last year because of the enthusiasm of students participating and also because of the equality of competition. Intramural Committee Decides on Basketball Games

With the start of second semester Intramural basketball was underway. Because of a time factor, the Intramural Committee decided to hold games both in the auxiliary gyms and varsity gym. This decision allowed three games to take place at one time. Also because of the decision, girls' games were completed by the end of February and the boys shortly after. Other second semester sports were softball, men's tennis, and the track meet.

50 Years Coeducational

President Restudies Curriculum

Early in the year, President James S. Wilder announced that the focus would center on the query, "How do we make all courses offered at Lambuth relevant to the college student today?" In order to arrive at some answers, the college applied for a government grant to restudy the curriculum.

Each faculty member was asked to do a self-study of each course to determine if the course was justified and relevant. Realizing that today's students are more concerned with what they will do once they get out of school rather than striving to get a basic liberal arts education, more career channeled programs were offered, such as the interior design and hotel management programs.

New Personnel Added

In late October, C. Pacaud Bell was named Director of Development. Mr. Bell succeeded William Nace, who was promoted to the position of Vice President of Planned Giving. Before his promotion, Mr. Nace served in the combined areas of college development and estate planning.

The Admissions Office had new personnel this year. Mr. Bob Stadinger was named director, and Marcia Cooper and David Douglass were appointed Admissions Counselors. The Admissions office worked to attract more students to Lambuth by distributing newsletters, working with the Memphis Methodist Conference, visiting schools and churches, and encouraging student visits to the campus.

Lambuth was awarded a $100,000 federal grant to be used to strengthen the basic skills program of the Human Development Center, which is directed by Wood K. Whetstone. The grant, which was awarded under Title III of the Higher Education Act of 1965, was used to augment the fundamental areas of mathematics, reading, and writing.

Public Relations Adds New Member

Early in September, Fred Brewster was appointed Director of College Relations and Alumni Affairs. A Lambuth graduate, Mr. Brewster previously worked in television news broadcasting and public relations. Besides his duties in alumni affairs, this year he served as sponsor of "Harvest," a student recruitment group, and was in charge of Lambuth television advertisements shown on area stations.

The post of Sports Information Director for the past year was filled by Mike Jacobs, who handled all publicity of Lambuth's athletic events.

Hazlewood Assumes Head Librarian Post

After eight years as head librarian, Mrs. Velma Huie retired on September 1, 1974. Mrs. Bob Hazlewood was named to succeed Mrs. Huie. Before being appointed to the top position, Mrs. Hazlewood served as the Lambuth acquisitions librarian for ten years. Miss Ruth Ann Grant, a Lambuth graduate, was appointed head of acquisitions.

This year the library staff worked to complete the conversion from Dewey Decimal Classification to Library of Congress. This project was started in 1967, when the library had 38,000 volumes. At the beginning of this year, total volumes numbered over 78,000.

More audio-visual materials were available through the library this year. These materials included slides, cassettes, and microfiche.

Business/Economics Adds Banking Course

Added to the pre-professional program of Lambuth was a new course in banking for business majors. Field work was an integral part of the course study as was class work. Students in this area will be able to receive the Bachelor of Business Administration degree, which was also begun this year. Considered to be a pre-professional degree, it was made available to those students in the areas of concentration in Business Management, Hotel-Restaurant Management, Marketing, Banking, and Office Administration.

History Department Takes 50th Trip to Shiloh

Several field trips, which have become a traditional part of the history and political science program, were enjoyed by history students this year. Journeys to such places as Pinson Mounds, Shiloh National Military Park, and Nashville, helped to bring history and its events to life for interested students.

On the trip to Nashville, Tennessee Governor Winfield Dunn greeted Mr. David Snipes and 70 students from Lambuth classes in Tennessee History and State and Local Government. This visit was the 11th annual college pilgrimage to the capital.

The 1974 tour of Shiloh National Military Park marked the 50th year for Lambuth College history students and faculty to make the annual trip.

Sociology Emphasizes Diversity

With a program based on human pragmatism, this department has always been one to emphasize courses dealing with basic and real needs of its majors. In this spirit, the department offered new courses in law enforcement and police science.

Innovations were also evident in the department's interim programs. Taught by Mrs. Freund, "After Lambuth, What?" provided an in-depth study of occupational and educational options for students after graduation. Dr. DuBose offered an opportunity for students to be a part of an Action Team, who worked in an after-school tutorial program with young children experiencing learning difficulties, in Memphis.

Education Adds New Faculty Member

With the department's increasing emphasis on the special education program, a new faculty member, Miss Nancy Johnston, was hired. A graduate of Lambuth, Miss Johnston taught both Special Education and the history of Education.

The department and the college are hoping to make Special Education a separate major soon instead of offering only certification in the field. Future plans also include a major in Remedial Reading.

Library Science Program Enlarges

Continuing the trend of recent years, Library Science gained an increasing number of students. Many already certified teachers came back to school in order to further their education with a degree in library science, both for their own needs and also for the needs of students in proper library procedures.

During the spring semester, a practicum was offered in which the participants worked in libraries in the surrounding area. This independent study program was utilized by the students according to their personal needs and preferences.

Lambuth Hosts "Great Ideas" Exhibit

Lambuth became the 1st college in West Tennessee to host the nationally acclaimed "Great Ideas of Western Man" art exhibit owned by the Container Corporation of America. The members of the Art Department were instrumental in bringing this collection to the campus. A special committee worked to coordinate the late October event. On display in the Colonial Room, the works drew hundreds of art lovers from the nearby areas and over the Mid-South to the campus. The student exhibit, held in conjunction with the CCA "Great Ideas," was won by John Seminara.

Because of the growing interest in the interior design courses, the art department was able to obtain the use of a small white frame house behind Sprague Hall to serve as headquarters for these classes. The classwork for the design students included making a floorplan for an apartment and then decorating that apartment. There were also field trips to furniture dealers and makers and to exemplary homes.

English Department Adds Journalism to Curriculum

Efforts were made by the English Department this year to structure its curriculum to the interests of non-English majors as well as English majors. Even though new courses were added, the department continued to offer the traditional literature courses.

In order to have a more career-oriented program, the English Department instigated a two-semester course in journalism. The first semester consisted of an introduction to the various aspects of journalism in the communication media and included field trips, to area television, radio stations, newspapers, and also included speakers representing the different media. Second semester followed a practicum format. Dr. Annie Lou Smith taught both semesters.

Dr. John DeBruyn, department chairman, revived a course on Victorian writers.

Mrs. Frank Hudacek, a Lambuth graduate, joined the 1974-75 English faculty. She worked with freshman English through the Human Development Center.

Speech Department Probes Future

Attempting to meet the social demands of speech and drama majors in a more comprehensive way, the Speech Department offered a course in Speech Pathology, taught at the Jackson Speech and Hearing Center. Looking toward the future, Mr. Byrum will offer an introductory course the spring semester of 1975, and by fall, the department hopes to offer a certification in the field of Speech Pathology.

As usual, the department presented a variety of Interim projects, Mr. Neely offered a "Study of English and French Theatre," Mr. Byrum and Miss Higgs offered a "Fine Arts Trip to New York and Washington, D.C.," and Mr. Cox offered the provocative study, "The Rhetoric of Revivalism."

Music Department Schedules Concerts

Lambuth's Music Department worked steadily this year to present their many productions. In September, Mrs. Sara Beth Causey joined the music staff instructing voice students. Choral singing filled the Jackson area during November at the annual Christmas Candlelight service. The Touring Choir again made its spring tour in April singing in churches in the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas, as well as other churches in the Memphis Methodist Conference. The spring concert by the Concert and Touring choirs came in May to complete the musical presentations for the year.

Department Stresses Interdisciplinary Courses

Because of a concern over the lack of interdisciplinary courses, the philosophy and religion departments in conjunction with faculty members of other departments offered several such courses. Dr. Gene Davenport and Dr. Charles Mayo offered Secular Literature/Contemporary World Literature. During the spring semester, Dr. Brady Whitehead, Dr. Gene Davenport, and Dr. Harry Berryman correlated religion and psychology in "Christian Education and the Development of a Person."

Interim, too, brought the department into a joint effort with the music department. In "Music and the Human Being; or, You Are What You Hear." Dr. Russell McIntire and Dr. Don Honeycutt explored the effect of music on our lives.

The department introduced two new courses — "Eighth Century Prophets" and the "Life of Jesus" — designed solely for freshman students. These classes, offered by Dr. Whitehead, created a better learning atmosphere for freshmen.

Psychology Department Moves

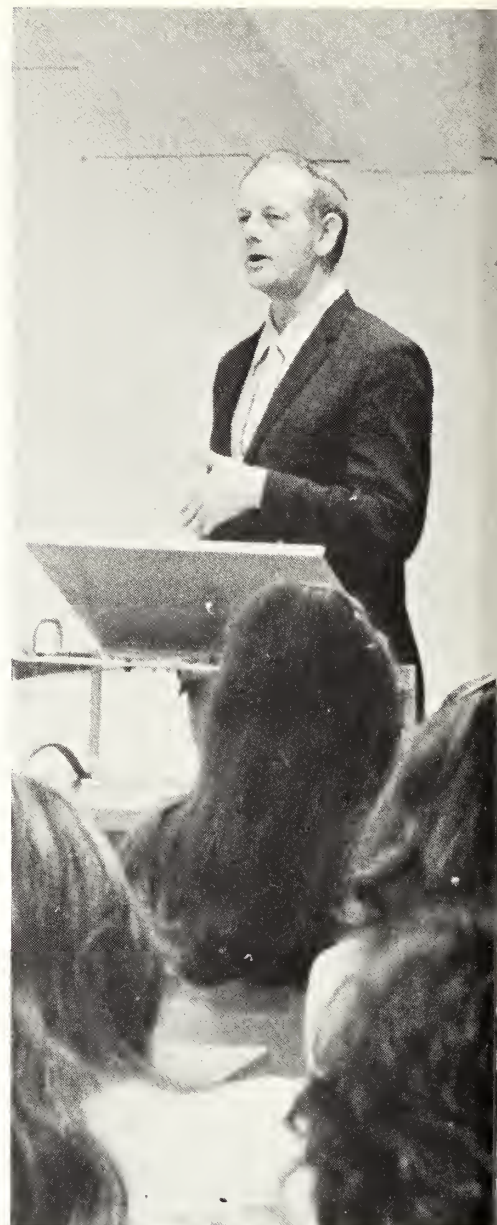

Changes marked the Psychology Department as it was established apart from the Education Department and relocated in the College Union. Working with the Human Development Center, the Psychology Department provided educational psychology students to tutor elementary, high school, and college students with learning difficulties. New methods in the department included team-teaching by Dr. Berryman and Dr. Snellgrove in the General Psychology course and a different system of student appraisal of courses.

New Interim Offered

For the first time, the Chemistry and Physical Science departments combined forces and talents to offer an interim on photography. The project was under the direction of Dr. Beasley, who taught the chemical aspects of photography, and Dr. Doyle, who conducted the technical aspects of the interim. Activities included making cameras and listening to guest speakers from the Jackson Sun. Overall, the project proved very successful and, hopefully, will be repeated next year.

Department Changes

Tennessee's physical education teacher certification is in the process of being modernized. Lambuth's Physical Education department is changing to meet these requirements. No longer will one be certified to teach both elementary and secondary with a P.E. major. According to the courses taken, one will be certified in either one or the other. Also new courses were offered, raising the interest of many students, such as "Kinesiology," "Care and Prevention of Athletic Injuries," and "Seminar in Physical Education."

The department also made changes in its regular P.E. classes. One hour credit is now given to each P.E. course. One result of this modernization enjoyed by Lambuth students is the co-ed classes, especially swimming.

Biology Department Plans for Field Station

At the beginning of the school year, President Wilder announced the establishment of a biological field station at Eva, Tennessee. The facility is to be named for Dr. Arthur D. Oxley, biology professor emeritus. It will be used by faculty and students to study plant, animal, bird, insect and aquatic life in a natural environment.

During the summer, the Lambuth Biology Department was selected as one of 289 colleges and universities science departments to share in $3 million in Instructional Scientific Equipment grants from the National Science Foundation. Lambuth's grant of $2,000 is to be matched by the institution.

On January 18th, the department participated in the college-sponsored Science and Medical Career Day. There were sessions in the pre-professional areas of medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, and four paramedical fields. Also, the visiting students met with personnel from the biology, chemistry, and physics/math departments.

Dr. Robert Carlton, Chairman of the Biology department, was chosen to Outstanding Educators of America for 1974. Nominated by the college, he was selected for his teaching ability and contributions to the school, civic projects, and his field.

Math Offers New Course

Realizing the needs of many students, a new course in practical science was offered by the Mathematics-Physics department and taught by Dr. Yancey. This new course points to the very strong program in math at Lambuth. As proven in the past, most of the math majors that leave Lambuth are very well qualified for teaching, graduate school, or for the high paying jobs that require an undergraduate math major.

Various Interims Offered

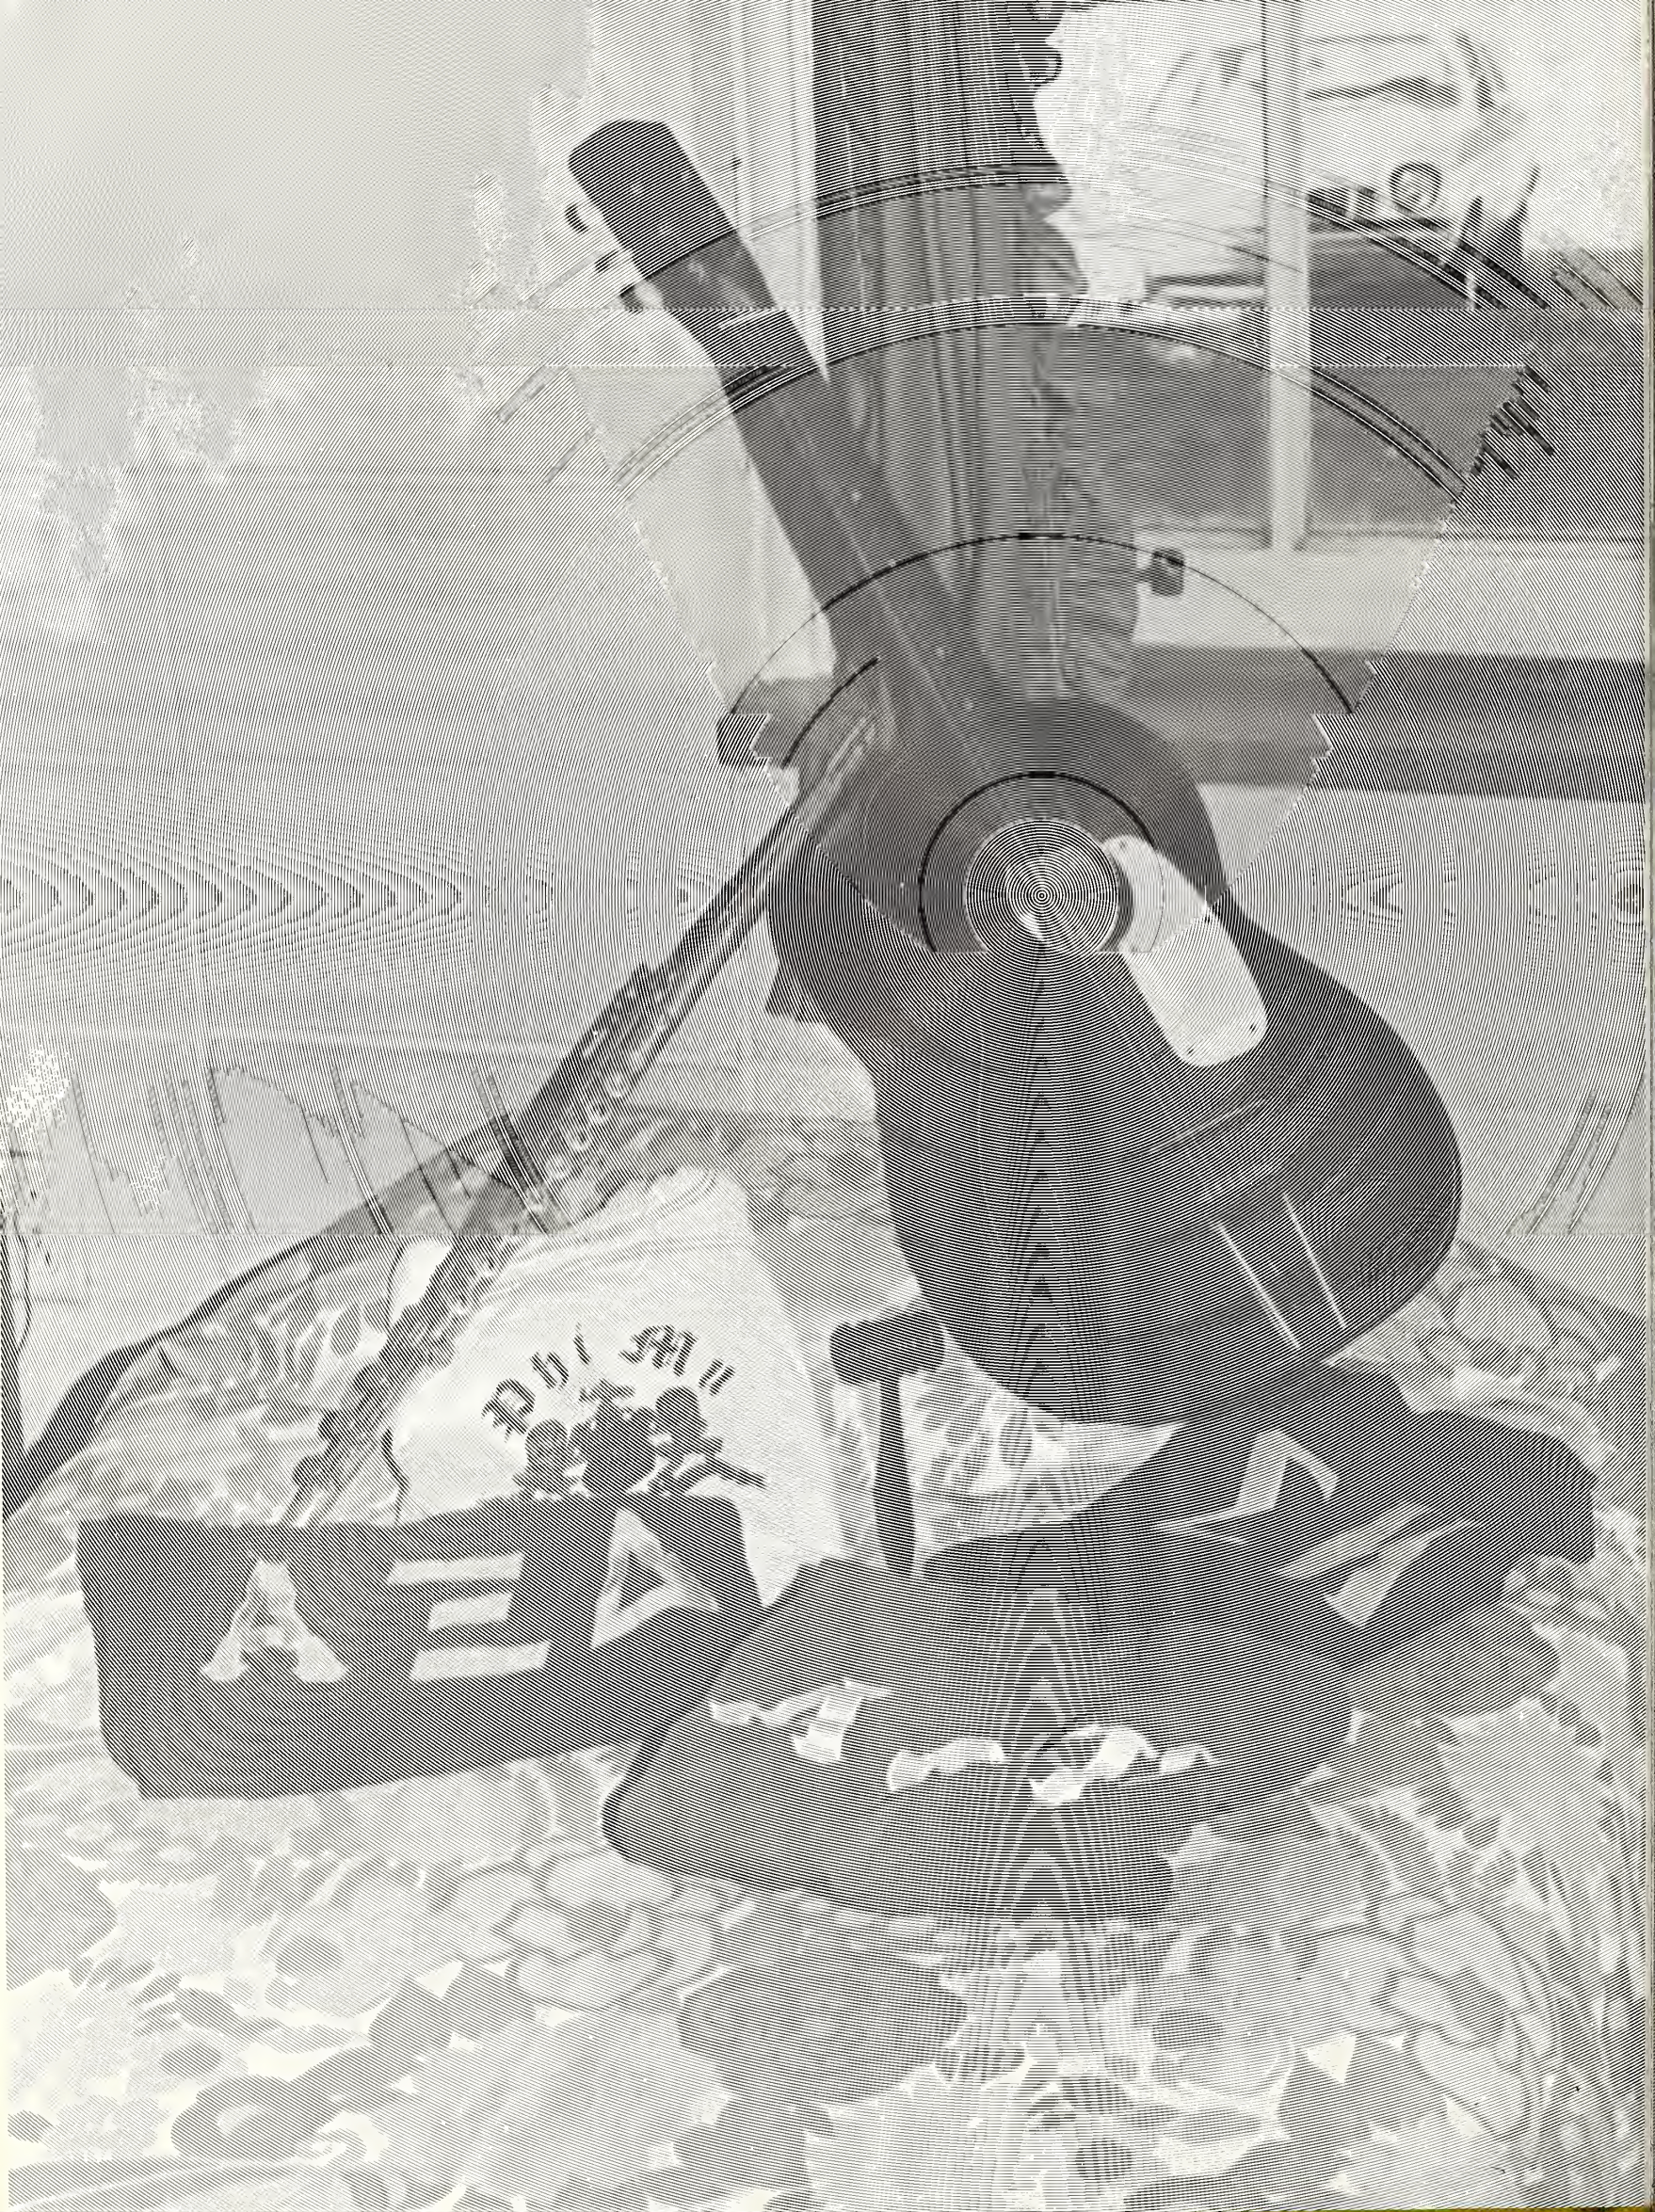

Lambuth's Foreign Language department was busy during the interim period with trips to France and with courses in different languages. For example, Mr. McCullar offered Conversational German and Mrs. Craft taught Functional French to show how French phrases used in America may have entirely different meanings in France. For the future, Mrs. Craft has investigated the possibility of taking a group of students to Martinique. In addition, Barry Bargery went to France for an independent study in the French language.

Both the Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity Councils conducted very successful rush activities last fall. The weekend after rush they co-sponsored the IFC-Panhellenic dance for all Greeks and their new pledges. In November, they worked together to present All-Sing, the benefits from which went to a selected charity.

Panhellenic planned to revise rush rules for future rushes. In the spring, a workshop was held for all the sororities. Also, in the spring, the groups participated in a car wash to raise money for Panhellenic. In addition, money was collected during the annual Mile-o-Money drive for the Jackson Day Care Center.

IFC planned flagball games with four members of each Lambuth fraternity playing against players from Union. Also, planned were several benefit projects.

Alpha Xi Delta Holds Unusual Parties

After pledging eleven prospective members, Alpha Xi Delta started the year with a retreat in Memphis. The sorority again held its annual Mr. and Miss Collegiate in November in which Greg Waldrop and Sue Harris were announced as the winners.

The sorority kept socially busy throughout the year with parties, such as a Casino Royale, a New Year's Eve party and a luau. The highlight of the year was the Blue and Gold Ball held in April.

Members of Alpha Xi Delta again won many honors on campus, including Best Supporting Actress 1974, a member of Who's Who, and Miss Collegiate. Alpha Xis served as co-editor of the year-book and as members of the school's publications staffs, varsity sports teams, band, and choirs.

Activities included sponsoring a coffee for faculty members, giving ice cream cones to the students, gathering canned goods for the needy in the area, and donating a tree to the college. The week ended with the traditional Founder's Day Banquet.

Competing in fall intramurals, Sigma Kappa took first place in volleyball, archery, and pingpong. On November 19th, the sorority took top honors in Greek All-Sing.

With the aid of recessing funds and many talented and industrious students, SGA was able to maintain a wide variety of activities this year including many new events such as Parents' Week-end, a co-op booksale and a regular series of open houses for all dorms.

Political activities also occupied an important place with Lambuth; delegates were sent to two state-wide college organizations' conventions, and a complete revision of the student constitution was made.

Vision Staff Revamps Its Structure

This year's Vision sought to repeat the first class rating earned by last year's staff from the American Collegiate Press. The 1974-75 paper staff made some changes in an effort to upgrade the general quality of the bi-monthly.

In order to update the newspaper, the staff hierarchy was res-structured. The staff no longer consisted of just an editor and assistant editor with reporters underneath them. Instead, the staff was re-organized to include an editor-in-chief, individual division editors in news, Greeks, sports, and features, and reporters within each division.

Rather than continue to have the printing done out of town, the staff had it done in Jackson. This change gave the staff members an opportunity to learn something about the actual printing techniques.

The 1975 Lantern staff used as its theme the 50th anniversary of Lambuth College as a co-educational institution. With a limited staff headed for the first time by co-editors, the annual was dedicated to exploring many phases of Lambuth college life and history.

Preparation for the yearbook began in the spring of 1974 with the selection of co-editors Karen Sorgenfrei and Toni Miller. Work was soon underway on the organization of the annual and the selling of advertisements. By fall of 1974, staff members were busy preparing for the first deadline in November.

BSU Presents Black History Week

Involved in promoting unity and awareness on issues affecting all Black people, the Black Student Union initiated reforms in discriminatory practices, and introduced through display by individual and group efforts the various aspects of Afro-American culture and history.

In the fall the organization sponsored a skating party, bake sale, a Sadie Hawkins Dance and a Christmas Program at Western State Psychiatric Hospital.

During January, Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday was observed with a special chapel worship service.

"Black History Week," presented second semester, opened with the "Black Extravaganza," a narrative history of the black man in America, and ended with a "Gospel Night." To commemorate black students who have died on college campuses, a Black Arm Band Day was held. Other activities of the group were the annual All Soul Talent Show and the annual Spring Fashion Show.

Members Go to First State Band

Composed of both music and non-music majors are the Lambuth College Concert and Jazz Bands.

The Concert Band presented a winter concert in December and the annual spring concert after its return from band tour in May.

Several of the concert band members participated in the first Tennessee All State Collegiate Bands at Dyersburg State Junior College and U.T. Knoxville.

The jazz band performed at all the home basketball games. It also performed for the Jackson Merchandise Mart, and the Old Hictory Academy Beauty Pageant. Plans by the jazz band were made to go to Sheffield High School and St. James Methodist Church, as well as to perform with the concert band on

Kaleidoscope Travels

Featured performers at the Miss Tennessee pageant this summer, Kaleidoscope was quite popular on campus and in the Jackson area. Under the direction of Frank Coulter, the group made frequent church and club appearances and also went on both band and choir tours.

For the first time Kaleidoscope performed with the Jackson Symphony Orchestra, presenting a Gershwin program. It also hosted the annual Come-and-Go broadcast from Second National Bank at Christmas.

Harvest Entertains Students

Working through the Development Office and the Office of Alumni Affairs and College Relations is Harvest. The group performed at many churches in the Memphis Conference for both youth groups and worship services. It has traveled throughout West Tennessee and West Kentucky singing for civic organizations, high schools and for college functions.

The purpose of Harvest is to provide for worship services and entertainment services through the use of contemporary music, as well as for recruiting new students. The group is composed entirely of non-music majors.

SNEA Hosts Christmas Party

In keeping with its interest in the teaching field, the student National Education Association conducted monthly programs on current educational concerns. Additional benefits came from three monthly education magazines the members received.

SNEA hosted educable mentally retarded children at a Christmas party. In the spring, the group gave a tea for all educators in the Jackson area who had supervised Lambuth student teachers.

Home Ec. Club Gives Spring and Bridal Show

Family Development majors and other interested people compose the Home Economics Club, sponsored by Mrs. Nelle Cobb and Mrs. June Creasey. The club held meetings twice a month, one a business meeting and the other a social meeting. Activities for the year included a fall banquet, a Christmas decoration demonstration and the Spring and Bridal Fashion Show in February.

As active members of the Tennessee Home Economics Association, the club has had a state officer for the last three years. This year Beth Burkart served as Fourth Vice Chairman for the state. The local club also sent delegates to the annual state convention, held in Nashville, April 25-26:

Phi Alpha Theta Enjoys Slide-Lectures

Phi Alpha Theta is an international history honor fraternity open to juniors and seniors with twelve hours of history. Mr. Robert Mathis and Dr. B. R. Coleman sponsor the local chapter.

Programs this year included slide presentations and lectures on the Holy Land by Randy Cooper, on France by Mrs. Hughette Craft, and on Western Europe by Mr. David Snipes.

Throughout the year, the group held picnics and took field trips to historical sites in the area.

AID Receives House

Lambuth Student Chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers has a membership of 35 major and non-major students. The club's activities included field trips to such places as the Jackson Antique Exhibition, the Governor's Mansion and the Hermitage in Nashville, and Victorian Village in Memphis. A house was recently given to the club, providing a combination classroom-shop atmosphere for the interior design students. Class projects in painting and wallpapering provided learning experiences in furnishing the house.

ACS Stresses Professionalism

Open to biology and chemistry majors, the American Chemical Society is a pre-professional organization. Each year this group presents an award to the outstanding junior or senior in the field.

Spectrum Meets Weekly

Composed of the entire student body of Lambuth College, the Campus Congregation was open to anyone seeking fellowship and friendship.

This year was a very enthusiastic one for the group. Its many activities included chapel services every Sunday morning, "rap sessions" at the Chaplain's home on Sunday nights, and weekly chapel choir practices. A retreat was held each semester and "Spectrum," a Bible study session, was conducted once a week.

The Campus Congregation reached out to help the Jackson community by sponsoring clothes drives for needy families in the area.

An annual event sponsored by the group is FOCUS. This mid-November event featured as guest speakers Will Campbell, publisher of the Journal of Southern Churchmen and Dr. A. J. Sharp, retired chairman of the Botany Department of University of Tennessee.

Getting off to a slow and difficult start, the station got on its feet and is looking ahead to the future. Plans for next fall are to gain more new equipment, enlarge the studios, and have complete record and production rooms.
